Obtaining an EIN for your Student Organization

NOTE: Student organizations whose funds are accounted for within the university should not obtain a separate EIN for the purpose of setting up a bank account.

What is an EIN/Federal Tax ID Number?
The Employer Identification Number or EIN, (also known as the Federal Tax ID Number) is a number assigned by the Internal Revenue Service and used to identify a business or other organization.

Student organizations wishing to open a bank account must apply for an EIN. Organizations should not open a checking account using an individual’s social security number. The financial burden of the account then rests with that individual and they become responsible for claiming any interest accrued on the account on their own tax return. They also become responsible for the account if there is any problem with it and furthermore, the individuals-in-charge change over the life of the organization.

Why do I need an EIN?
If your organization applies for grant funding or you have a fundraiser with an outside business such as a restaurant, you need a tax ID number to receive money or in-kind donations. You will also need this number to open an account with the credit union or bank. Additionally, obtaining an EIN helps to ensure the IRS will not make any of an organization’s members personally responsible for taxes on revenue that the organization has earned.

Can we just use the University’s EIN?
NO! Recognition by the University does not imply similar tax status and student organizations are not allowed to use the University’s EIN. Student organizations are independent entities responsible for their own finances and establishing and maintaining their tax status with the IRS. They are also responsible for any required tax filings with Federal and State agencies.

Is having an EIN the same as being a non-profit organization?
NO! Student organizations are not necessarily Federally Tax-Exempt Non-profit Organizations. Only the federal government can confer charitable status on an organization. Filing for charitable status (501(c)(3) status) is a lengthy legal procedure that commits the organization to the rigorous annual reporting procedures required by the IRS.

How do I get an EIN?
The easiest way to apply is online through the IRS website. For guidance on completing the registration process, please see the one-page job aid on page 2. You will receive your number immediately upon applying. You can also apply by mail or over the phone.

Who do I contact if I have questions about or have trouble filling out the online form? For assistance you should contact the IRS directly. They can be reached at 1-800-829-4933.
Job Aid for applying for an EIN online:
